News and Updates

Christmas Break! Have a safe and wonderful Christmas break! Rest up! Get ready to meet our Student Teacher, Mr. Henning, on the January 12th!

Religion: In our two Christlight lessons this week, we studied Jesus' feeding of the five thousand, and his walking on water. In our only Faith Foundation lesson, we finished our study of the Eighth Commandment.

English: We spent the week writing a few different types of stories. On Tuesday we wrote a creative story, on Wednesday we wrote a persuasive essay, and on Thursday we wrote a descriptive paragraph.

Reading: Tuck Everlasting - We spent the week working on a sequel to Tuck Everlasting. On Thursday, we watched the Disney version of the book. There was lots of teenage kissing, which Willy rightly pointed out shouldn't be done until they are married!!!

Math: The 5th graders had an Investigation on organizing and analyzing data. They also had lessons on multiplying by two-digit numbers and naming numbers through hundred billions. The 6th graders also had an investigation on displaying data. Later in the week

Reminders...

- Have a wonderful Christmas Break!

we learned about rounding decimal numbers, mentally dividing decimal numbers by 10 and 100, and simplifying fractions.

Social Studies: We are starting a new unit when we come back from Christmas Break. This we were introduced to the new unit, Africa, and read a story about it. There will be a map test on the southwest portion of Africa at the end of the chapter.

Science: We studied the Earth, Sun, and Moon this week. In our lessons we learned about the cause of the seasons and why it was so insanely cold last week.
