News and Updates

Religion: This week we saw God show his judgment and mercy to people of all time. We can have faith in God our Father because he has been faithful to his promises, just as he was faithful to Noah and his family. We may disobey like the people at Babel, but God still forgives our sins and teaches us to forgive.

English: The students sang their way through five familiar jingles this week to review the Pattern 1 sentences. I look forward to reading some creative practice sentences over the weekend.

Reading: In Number the Stars, the students discovered that hidden meaning can be found in whispered words, special symbols, and even a closed casket. We continue to follow the journey of the Jews as they escape injustice.

Social Studies: We jumped feet-first into our studies of Earth's bodies of water. Toward the end of the week, we followed lines of latitude and longitude to find exact locations.

Reminders...

- Work to stay healthy during these warmer days. Drink plenty of water, eat your fruits and vegetables, and get all the sleep you can!
- G.I.G.A.T.T! (Ask your child what it means)

Math: Both classes were able to test their skills this week, showing mastery of these early concepts. All students interpreted the plots of story problems, while the sixth grade math studied sequences, scales, surveys, and several-step solutions.

Science: The students had a hoot with our Kahoot reviews throughout the week. Their plant expertise was proven, especially by the 5th grade at Outdoor Education Day! We also began learning about reproduction of plants without seeds. We used sugar to simulate spores galore flying through the air!

Jr. Choir/Music: The sixth grade started learning three new songs and are keeping up the energy with all of Mr. Henning's upbeat music! Both classes are practicing the difference between rhythm and beat using raps, claps, and tap-tap-taps.

Other: Everyone was in good spirits and great attire for our Picture and Video Day on Wednesday. The students performed well and were not a bit camera shy. :) The fifth graders had a blast at Outdoor Education Day, from sifting through pond water, to taking on their parents and Mr. Henning at Wildlife Jeopardy and plant bingo, to proving who could be the biggest tree with the right resources.

Teacher's Note: I admire the dedication being put in by every student. I have seen great work and wonderful Christian-living already in these first three weeks. As we move into fall, remember to keep persevering for God has given us so much with every day! "I thank my God every time I remember you." (Philippians 1:3-11)
